The entry for the family in the 1871 Census may indicate that they were living in Bruham Street, South Brewham, next to the church.

Between the 1871 and 1881 Censuses William and Decima's three youngest daughters appear to have put their ages back by five years (Mary), four years (Martha), and three years (Sarah Ann) respectively. Their last surviving parent had died in 1875. In 1881 they were dressmakers, unmarried, and living in the family home with their eldest brother Richard, a shoemaker.
